

ENDEAVORERS ELECT OFFICERS AT FINAL SESSION

Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D.,
and Harry Wade Hicks
Speakers at Last Evening's
Session in Opera House—
Reception at Congregational Church.

REV. FRANCIS E. CLARK, D.D.,
President World's Christian Endeavor Union,
Speaker at Opera House.

Final Sessions of a Most Successful Convention Held at Baptist Church This Forenoon With Interesting Addresses. A Field Secretary Proposed.

With the adjournment this noon the 13th annual convention of the State Christian Endeavor Union, which has been in session in this city for three days, was brought to a close, and a large number of the delegates left for their homes this afternoon. Although the attendance has not been as large as usual the delegates are quite unanimous in saying the convention has been very successful, both in the interest shown and the excellence of the programme.

The special train which carried the delegates to the granite quarries yesterday afternoon returned so that the sessions were resumed shortly after 4 o'clock. The visitors were much pleased with the trip to the quarries, and it was referred to very pleasantly by Rev. James Alexander, one of the speakers of the afternoon which was given up to junior work.

JUNIOR HOUR

Held at Congregational Church, Presided Over by Miss Ellis.

The "Junior Hour" was at the Congregational church, and Miss Mary W. Ellis, the state Junior superintendent, was in charge. After the calling to order the Juniors from the Barre Congregational church delighted the audience with a series of exercises which consisted of speaking and singing. Those who gave recitations were Mary Carson, Carrie Linekin and Lena Jones, while the music was given by a chorus of Junior's voices.

Mrs. L. A. Pierce of Westminster, the state assistant Junior superintendent, gave an address to the Juniors which was listened to with much interest, and then Rev. James Alexander of Newport, N. H.,

HARRY WADE HICKS OF BOSTON,
Secretary A. B. C. F. M. and a Speaker at Last Night's Meeting.

a popular convention speaker, was called upon to say something. At the close of his speech Rev. Mr. Alexander presented the state Junior banner to the society which shows the largest membership. This honor this year fell to the Springfield Congregational society, and the banner was received by Miss Ellis, who besides being state superintendent of the Juniors is superintendent of the Springfield Juniors.

Rev. W. W. Sleeper of Wellerley, Mass., gave a most helpful talk to the Juniors on "Christ and the Children," and in the few minutes left before the time for adjournment Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., of Boston, conducted an open parliament on Junior work, during which he answered whatever questions were put to him.

LAST EVENING'S SESSION.

Two Fine Addresses at the Barre Opera House.

The important meeting of the convention was the assembly in the opera house last evening, at which addresses were made by Harry Wade Hicks of Boston, A. B. C. F. M. and Rev. F. E. Clark D. D., of Boston, who is best known as "Father Endeavor" Clark. The opera house was well filled with people when Pres. Osgood opened the meeting. Both speakers are well known in the Christian Endeavor work, and the addresses which they gave were most interesting to the Christian Endeavorers and all Christian workers.

After a brief praise service Rev. C. S. Hager of Hyde Park offered prayer and the first speaker, Mr. Hicks, was introduced. Mr. Hicks' subject was "Workmen that needeth not to be ashamed." As in every other line of work, skilled laborers are needed in the Christian work, he said in opening his address, and in order to be good workmen we need to have the strength. If we were to introduce Bible study in our young people's societies we would have our churches filled with well-equipped young people. Never before was there such a turning towards Bible study. We ought to know our Bible. Timothy from his infancy knew the Bible thoroughly. Such a workman needeth not to be ashamed. This study is able to make us complete in this work.

The study of the Bible will acquaint us with the problems of life. I do not see how any person can lay a claim to be a follower of Christ without knowing this book.

If Christ means anything to us let us go about our problems in a way that will tell. I pray that young people may take more interest in these things?

After a selection by a mixed quartette, Rev. F. E. Clark, D. D., was introduced by President Osgood who said that with Christian Endeavor audiences there is no one more gladly received than Dr. Clark. The audience greeted Dr. Clark with the Chautauque salute. The speaker's subject was "Forward Movement."

"I find that the young people of Vermont, of all the states and of the world are about alike, with the same purposes and same desires. I come to you in a way, as a connecting link between these young people. Besides a 'Forward Movement,' I come to tell you of the 'Increase Movement of expanding and taking in others, is not the true purpose of the Young People's societies. Do not be content with your own little companies, do not stop until your whole community is reached with the message.

Loyalty, fellowship, and the heroic element will come with this forward movement.

Dr. Clark then displayed the first American flag that was run up in the Philippines after the United States took possession there. The flag was presented to Dr. Clark at Denver during the recent national convention. He drew a lesson of loyalty from that.

Then he showed a flag "from Eastern Bengal, from which a lesson of fellowship was drawn. It bears the Christian Endeavor emblem and the Christian Endeavor pledge.

A third banner came from China, to be given to the state that first reaches its gain of ten per cent. In the middle of the banner were the names of 64 Chinese Endeavorers who died for the cause. "The banner tells of devotion, of heroic deeds," said the speaker.

THE SOCIAL SIDE.

Pleasant Reception to Visitors and Delegates.

A delightful social feature of the convention was the reception in the parlors of the Congregational church last evening immediately following the address of Dr. Clark in the opera house. Here an opportunity to become acquainted was afforded as was a chance to meet Dr. Clark, the head of the Christian Endeavor movement.

The parlors were prettily trimmed with the Endeavor colors, green and white. The guests were received by C. S. Wallace, Walter N. Greason, Mrs. George Hall, Miss Katherine Matheson and George M. Gates. Light refreshments were served, and Potwin's orchestra furnished music during the reception.

DR. CLARK GOING AWAY.

Will Visit Several Foreign Countries in Endeavor Work.

Dr. F. E. Clark, the well known Christian Endeavorer, who spoke at the opera house last evening, will sail in a few weeks for New Zealand where he will hold conventions. He will spend two months in the principal cities of Australia and Tasmania. He will also visit Honolulu and Samoa, and will return by way of Europe and Great Britain. He will attend an important convention to be held in London next May.

The Closing Session.

The closing session of the convention was held at the Baptist church this forenoon, beginning at 9 o'clock, and it was a most impressive service. The usual "quiet hour" was led by Rev. W. A. Kinzie of Barre, followed by an address by Rev. Charles S. Hager of Hyde Park on "What is it to be a Christian?" Rev. Fraser Metcalf of Randolph gave an address on "Summing up the convention thoughts and ideas." Lieut. W. N. Hatchelder of Brattleboro who was to have spoken on "What are you going to do about it?" was not present. Following the completion of the work the audience joined in a few minutes of silent prayer, after which Rev. F. A. Poole pronounced a benediction.

The officers elected were as follows:

Committee on Resolutions Report.

Wishing to express its hearty appreciation of the courtesy extended to it by the churches and the people of Barre, the 13th annual meeting of the Christian Endeavor societies of Vermont in convention assembled.

Resolves, That as a token of its appreciation of the kindness and hospitality of the Young People's societies, the churches and the people of Barre, a hearty vote of thanks be recorded upon the minutes of the convention and also that the secretary of the convention furnish copies of this resolution to the press of the city.

Favors Field Secretary.

By vote taken this forenoon on the motion of Rev. W. A. Kinzie of Barre the convention showed that it favors the employment of a field secretary, and the president was authorized to look up the feasibility of having a field secretary for Vermont alone. If that is found not to be feasible then Vermont will unite with New Hampshire and Massachusetts, preferably with the former.

The Attendance.

While only 158 delegates registered their names at the Union headquarters, the officers stated that there were many more than that number in the city to attend the convention.

Twenty-two reported either by delegate or letter and the work of the past year included the study of art and literature, circulating of libraries in rural schools, social and domestic science.
